

Media Contact:

Courtney Scott

Help for Haiti

courtney@helpforhaiti.org

570.556.8645

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Help for Haiti Hosts 6th Annual Seacoast MobilePack to Benefit Malnourished Children in North Haiti

Nonprofit set to surpass 1,000,000 packed meals this year

Rye Beach, NH, May 12, 2016 – Help for Haiti, a New Hampshire-based nonprofit whose mission is to feed, educate and employ communities in north Haiti, will host its 6th Annual Feed My Starving Children (FMSC) MobilePack on Saturday, May 21, at Seacoast Helicopter in Portsmouth, NH. Help for Haiti, in partnership with food supplier and fellow nonprofit, FMSC, is on track to pack their one-millionth meal this year.

Jim Willey, Help for Haiti founder and president, said, “The Annual MobilePack is an integral component of our mission to feed, educate and employ children in Haiti as they transition from childhood to adulthood. You can’t overlook the simple fact that children are unable to grow and mature, physically or mentally, without adequate nutrition. Real change starts with food, and we have five years of success stories to prove it.”

The daylong food-packing event will bring together 600 volunteers to hand-pack over 125,000 FMSC MannaPack™ meals that are specially formulated to provide protein, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals to severely malnourished children. These meals will then be shipped to north Haiti to provide one meal per day to 480 hungry children in the two schools that Help for Haiti supports.

“You wouldn’t believe the visible change in a child’s attitude, focus and overall demeanor when they have a warm, nutritious meal. It’s amazing to witness how a simple bowl of vitamins and rice can transform a child’s entire future.”

Volunteers of all ages are still needed for this year’s food pack, from set up and tear down, to registration, packaging of meals and more. Those interested in the event, or in Help for Haiti’s greater mission to serve the people of Haiti, should visit the website or send an inquiry to info@helpforhaiti.org.

About Feed My Starving Children

You can register as a volunteer for the May 21 FMSC MobilePack in Portsmouth at www.fmsc.org. Click on Volunteer and scroll down to New Hampshire, then click on Get Involved to register.

Feed My Starving Children is a Christian non-profit that tackles world hunger by sending volunteer-packed MannaPack meals to nearly 70 countries, where they're used to operate orphanages, schools, clinics and feeding programs to break the cycle of poverty. MobilePack events enable children and adults across the United States to pack these life-giving meals. Churches, businesses, community groups and schools in more than 35 states have hosted these food-packing events as a way to foster teamwork and unity, while making a real difference in the fight to prevent and reverse malnutrition. For more information, visit fmsc.org.

About Help for Haiti

Jim Willey founded Help for Haiti in 2010 in response to the historic earthquake that devastated most of the country. A Christian 501c3, Help for Haiti was created specifically to feed and educate children in the northeast area of Haiti while working with local churches to build businesses and create job opportunities for future generations of educated, employable young adults. Help for Haiti utilizes strategic partnerships with organizations that are committed to either feed, educate or employ communities of impoverished people in Haiti. In the last five years, Help for Haiti has packed and shipped over 800,000 meals to hungry children in north Haiti.

#

For media inquiries and to schedule an interview, contact:

Help for Haiti

PO Box 103
Rye, NH 03870
TIN 27-29228891
info@helpforhaiti.org
603.969.7206

Allison Schwartz
Communications Manager
Feed My Starving Children
Phone: 763.504.5234
Email: ASchwartz@fmsc.org